

ALBI, CORDES SUR CIEL

You'll love:

- > Admiring the celestial vaults of the cathedral
- > Meeting “La Goulue”
- > Discovering the “croquants” of Cordes-sur-Ciel

 UP TO 25 PEOPLE

FROM €81

 INCL. TAX
PER PERSON

 FROM TUESDAY
TO SUNDAY

THIS PRICE INCLUDES:

- the services of a guide
- lunch
- admission to sites and monuments
- production and organization costs

MORNING

You set off by coach to the heart of the Episcopal City of Albi, a UNESCO World Heritage Site since July 2010.

Discover the impressive Sainte-Cécile Cathedral, the largest brick cathedral in the world, and the Berbie Palace, a bishop's palace of remarkable power... Albi is a unique city, renowned for its monumental brick architecture, its charm, and its deep connection to history.

You continue the morning with a visit to the Toulouse-Lautrec Museum.

Early works, scenes of Montmartre, the world of entertainment and theatre in late 19th-century Paris... the museum houses the largest public collection in the world dedicated to Henri de Toulouse-Lautrec. This exceptional collection, including the 31 posters he created, offers a rich and varied journey showcasing the artist's talent and genius.

Information and bookings – Groups service:
+33 (0)5 61 11 02 30 • visites@toulouse-team.com
www.toulouse-tourisme.com/visites-et-circuits-pour-les-groupes

Toulouse

LUNCH

Enjoy a well-deserved break — we have selected a great restaurant for you in the old town of Albi.

Menu includes starter, main course, dessert, wine, and coffee.

AFTERNOON

You will then head to the hilltop town of Cordes-sur-Ciel, a medieval village with steep, cobbled streets.

You are instantly immersed in a medieval atmosphere: fortified gates, ramparts, sculpted Gothic façades, and hidden corners. The charm works from the very first steps.

Founded by Raimond VII in 1222, during the turbulent period of the Albigensian Crusade, Cordes-sur-Ciel quickly developed and prospered. From the top of this medieval town, you overlook the world and contemplate history.